Community Consultative Committee meeting
Meeting details

Jamieson Way Community Centre
Wednesday 12 February 2020

Engagement purpose

Community consultative committees provide a forum for members of the local community to participate in the planning and development of the community hospitals project through open dialogue and consultation.

The meetings provide a mechanism through which views of the community are heard, emerging issues are monitored, and concerns and priorities of the community are voiced.

Session summary

The Community Consultative Committee (CCC) meeting updated the community on the progress of the Point Cook Community Hospital and consulted them on the development of the Community Hospitals overarching service model principles. The project team presented an overview of the Victorian hospital system and the local health context, reported back on engagement and communications activities to date, shared results of the October 2019 state-wide community survey and November 2019 service model design workshops and responded to questions about the project.

More importantly, the meeting provided a forum to test the Community Hospitals overarching service model principles. This was done through a workshop activity where committee members rotated in smaller groups to discuss and explore the three service model design principles:

Effective service relationships

Patient-focused services

Community engagement

What we heard

"Do patients know what services they need? Make sure that we appropriately educate the community on what we will offer"

"The Point Cook Community Hospital should have welcoming design and inclusive signs and signals built into its infrastructure"

"It's important to break down barriers and create consistency and transparency in management systems and information sharing"

"It would be great to offer a range of community wellbeing services"

"Have our local diversity reflected in employment, and offering access to translation services"

Issues and sentiment

Many questions over funding and land options, in consideration of where this Community Hospital will be located.

A number of queries relating to timelines and completion dates, what the milestones are for this project, and what factors may impact this timeline.

Strong concern for how to reframe public perception of the term 'hospital' in the local community. Clarity on what services are and are not available.
